LESSON 1

LAW OF ARREST, SEARCH & SEIZURE

725 ILCS 5/107-3; ARREST

Any person may arrest another when he has reasonable grounds to believe that an offense other than an ordinance violation is being committed

BEST PRACTICE FOR ARREST

Maintaining constant observation of a subject is key for an arrest.

- Observe concealment of merchandise
- Maintain uninterrupted observation of subject
- Observe failure to pay
- Detain outside of store

725 ILCS 5/107-8; ASSISTING A PEACE OFFICER

A peace officer making a lawful arrest may command the aid of persons over the age of 18.

A person commanded to aid a peace officer shall have the same authority as that peace officer.

A person commanded to aid a peace officer shall not be civilly liable for any reasonable conduct in aid of the peace officer.

725 ILCS 5/108-1; SEARCH WITHOUT WARRANT

When a lawful arrest is affected, a peace officer may reasonably search the person arrested and the area within such person's presence for the purpose of:

- Protecting the officer from attack

- Preventing the person from escaping

- Discovering the fruits of the crime

- Discovering the instruments, articles, or things which may have been used in the commission of the offense, or constitute the evidence of an offense.

SECURITY SEARCHES

Security may search a person or personal property only if the search is conducted incident to an arrest or is consensual. For a search that is done incident to an arrest, grounds for the arrest must be established prior to the search. Consensual searches take place with the consent of the person being searched or property owner. Consensual searches normally occur when a person is attempting to gain access to private or restricted property, or as a condition of employment.

LESSON 2

CIVIL & CRIMINAL LIABILITY

CIVIL LIABILITY

An individual is responsible for any injuries or property damage caused by that individual whether intentional or not. Civil liability is normally proved by a private person as opposed to the government and seeks monetary remedies. Unlike criminal liability, parties involved in civil suits don't face the risk of prison and fines.

CRIMINAL LIABILTY

Criminal liability differs from civil liability in the sense that a crime must be committed with criminal intent. Criminal liability is pursued by a government entity and can result in imprisonment and/or fines. Also, not being criminally liable does not always negate the possibility of civil liability.

FROMS OF CIVIL LIABILITY

-INTENTIONAL TORTS

Intentionally committing acts that cause injury, loss, or property damage

-NEGLIGENT LIABILIITY

Failing to exercise due care when obligated to do so, resulting in injury, loss, or property damage

FROMS OF CIVIL LIABILITY

-STRICT LIABILITY

Liable when engaged in inherently dangerous acts regardless of any fault or negligence

FROMS OF CIVIL LIABILITY

-VICARIOUS LIABILTY

Liability placed upon people or entities other than those actually engaged in the conduct that led to injury, loss, or property damage, based on a theory that certain parties have an authority over and a duty to control the acting parties

FORMS OF CRIMINAL LIABILTY

-STRICT LIABILITY

Liable for a crime regardless of intent.

-VICARIOUS/IMPLIED LIABILITY

Partaking in a crime and being held liable for an act committed by an accomplice.

LESSON 3

JUSTIFIABLE USE OF FORCE

FORCE VS DEADLY FORCE

-FORCE

Effort required to compel compliance by a subject, yet not likely to cause death or great bodily harm

-DEADLY FORCE

Effort required that is likely to cause death or great bodily harm in order to protect life. Great bodily harm can include loss of consciousness, broken bones, or permanent disfigurement.

720 ILCS 5/7-1; USE OF FORCE IN DEFENSE OF PERSON

A person is justified in the use of force against another when and to the extent that he reasonably believes that such conduct is necessary to defend himself or another against such other's imminent use of unlawful force. However, he is justified in the use of force which is intended or likely to cause death or great bodily harm only if he reasonably believes that such force is necessary to prevent imminent death or great bodily harm to himself or another, or the commission of a forcible felony.

720 ILCS 5/2-8 FORCIBLE FELONY

"Forcible felony" means treason, first degree murder, second degree murder, predatory criminal sexual assault of a child, aggravated criminal sexual assault, criminal sexual assault, robbery, burglary, residential burglary, aggravated arson, arson, aggravated kidnaping, kidnaping, aggravated battery resulting in great bodily harm or permanent disability or disfigurement and any other felony which involves the use or threat of physical force or violence against any individual

720 ILCS 5/7-2; USE IF FORCE IN DEFENSE OF DWELLING

A person is justified in the use of force against another when and to the extent that he reasonably believes that such conduct is necessary to prevent or terminate such other's unlawful entry into or attack upon a dwelling. However, he is justified in the use of force which is intended or likely to cause death or great bodily harm only if:

The entry is made or attempted in a violent, riotous, or tumultuous manner, AND he reasonably believes that such force is necessary to prevent an assault upon, or offer of personal violence to, him or another then in the dwelling or he reasonably believes that such force is necessary to prevent the commission of a felony in the dwelling.

720 ILCS 5/7-3; USE OF FORCE IN DEFENSE OF OTHER PROPERTY

A person is justified in the use of force against another when and to the extent that he reasonably believes that such conduct is necessary to prevent or terminate such other's trespass on or other tortious or criminal interference with either real property (other than a dwelling) or personal property, lawfully in his possession or in the possession of another who is a member of his immediate family or household or of a person whose property he has a legal duty to protect.

However, he is justified in the use of force which is intended or likely to cause death or great bodily harm only if he reasonably believes that such force is necessary to prevent the commission of a forcible felony.

720 ILCS 5/7-1 LIABILITY FOR JUSTIFIED USE OF FORCE

In no case, shall any act involving the use of force justified under this Section give rise to any claim or liability brought by or on behalf of any person acting within the definition of "aggressor" set forth in Section 7-4 of this Article, or the estate, spouse, or other family member of such a person, against the person or estate of the person using such justified force, unless the use of force involves willful or wanton misconduct.

720 ILCS 5/7-4 DEFINITITON OF AGGRESSOR

Use of force by aggressor. The justification described in the preceding Sections of this Article is not available to a person who is attempting to commit, committing, or escaping after the commission of, a forcible felony, or initially provokes the use of force against himself, with the intent to use such force as an excuse to inflict bodily harm upon the assailant, or otherwise initially provokes the use of force against himself, unless...

such force is so great that he reasonably believes that he is in imminent danger of death or great bodily harm, and that he has exhausted every reasonable means to escape such danger other than the use of force which is likely to cause death or great bodily harm to the assailant, or in good faith, he withdraws from physical contact with the assailant and indicates clearly to the assailant that he desires to withdraw and terminate the use of force, but the assailant continues or resumes the use of force.

720 ILCS 5/7-5.5;
PROHIBITED USE OF FORCE BY A PEACE OFFICER

A peace officer shall not use a chokehold in the performance of his or her duties, unless deadly force is justified under Article 7 of this Code. A peace officer shall not use a chokehold, or any lesser contact with the throat or neck area of another, in order to prevent the destruction of evidence by ingestion.

As used in this Section, "chokehold" means applying any direct pressure to the throat, windpipe, or airway of another with the intent to reduce or prevent the intake of air. "Chokehold" does not include any holding involving contact with the neck that is not intended to reduce the intake of air.

720 ILCS 5/7-6
PRIVATE PERSON'S USE OF FORCE IN MAKING ARREST

A private person who makes or assists another private person in making a lawful arrest is justified in the use of any force which he would be justified in using if he were summoned or directed by a peace officer to make such arrest, except that he is justified in the use of force likely to cause death or great bodily harm only when he reasonably believes that such force is necessary to prevent death or great bodily harm to himself or another.

A private person who is summoned or directed by a peace officer to assist in making an arrest which is unlawful, is justified in the use of any force which he would be justified in using if the arrest were lawful, unless he knows that the arrest is unlawful.

PEACE OFFICER USE OF FORCE CONTINUUM

OFFICER PRESENCE

No force is used.

Considered the best way to resolve a situation. The mere presence of an officer works to deter crime and diffuse situations.

VERBALIZATION

Force is not physical.

Officer issues calm non-threatening commands such as, “Let me see your ID” or “Stop” or “Don’t Move”.

MODERATE FORCE

Officer uses limited amount of force to gain control of a situation.

-SOFT TECHNIQUE
Officer guides subject using grabs, holds, and joint locks to restrain subject

-HARD TECHNIQUE
Officer uses punches and kicks to restrain subject

MODERATE FORCE

-CHEMICAL

Officer may use a chemical agent to restrain a subject

LESS THAN LETHAL METHODS

Officers use less than lethal methods to gain control of a situation.

-BLUNT IMPACT

Officer may use a baton to immobilize a combative subject

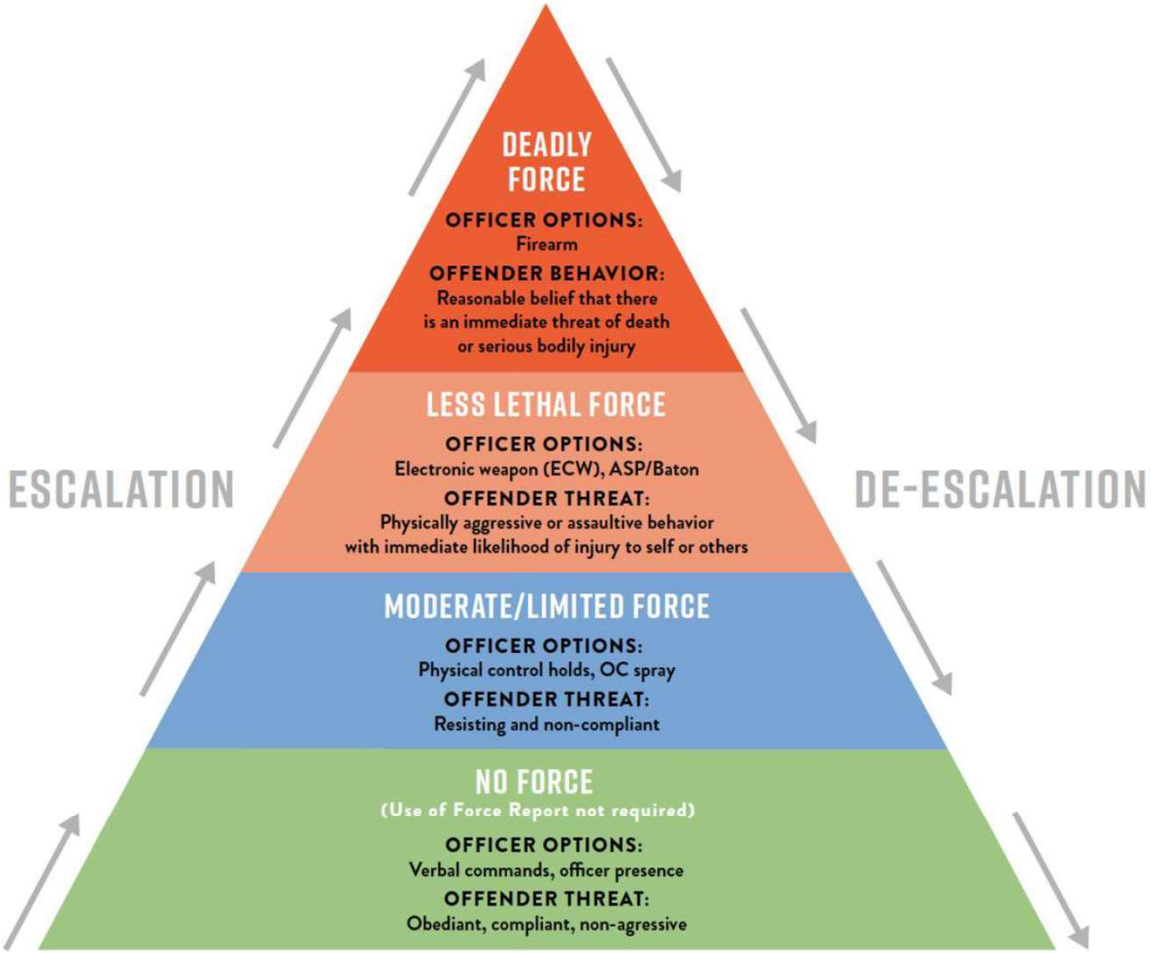

-ELECTRONIC CONTROL DEVICES

Officer may use “Taser” to immobilize a combative subject

LETHAL FORCE

Officer uses lethal force to gain control of a situation.

LETHAL FORCE SHOULD BE USED ONLY IF A SUBJECT IS USING LETHAL FORCE AGAINST THE OFFICER OR ANOTHER INDIVIDUAL AND THE USE OF FORCE IS LEGALLY APPROPRIATE.

USE THE OPTION THAT REPRESENTS THE MINIMAL AMOUNT OF FORCE NECCESSARY TO REDUCE THE IMMEDIATE THREAT

The Use of Force Model justifies the use of force in any given scenario, nonetheless, officers should refer to their company training policy as it relates to the use of force, and the state law.

LESSON 4

ARREST & CONTROL TECHNIQUES

HANDCUFFING

When affecting an arrest, approach subject and order subject to place his hands behind his back. The hands should be handcuffed behind the back with palms facing outward. Avoid injury to the wrist when applying the handcuffs and check to ensure that cuffs are not too tight or too loose. Handcuffs should be double locked.

HANDCUFFING

CONTROLLING AN ACTIVELY RESISTING SUBJECT

When met with resistance by a subject, use empty handed control measures such as, Bent-wrist maneuvers or Pressure Point Manipulation. If empty handed control fails and control instruments are necessary, deploy a chemical agent or baton.

DEPPLOYMENT OF CHEMICAL AGENT

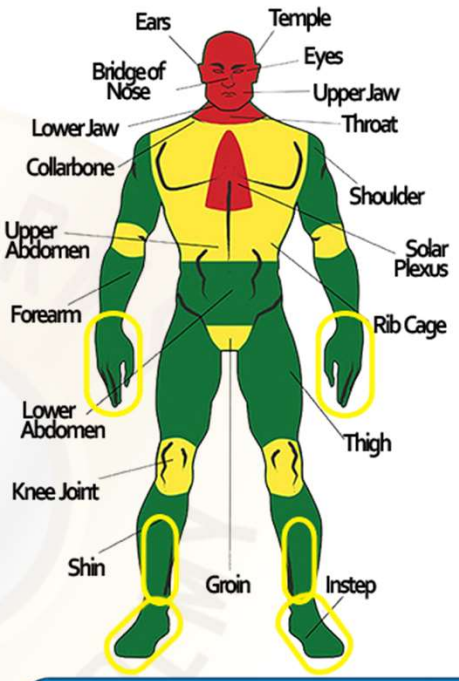

When deploying chemical agents, announce the use of the agent before deployment. Use a sweeping motion across the face of the subject. Be aware of post deployment procedures set in place by your employer, which typically requires rendering care to the subject (rinsing eyes). Even though most pepper spray is not flammable, aerosol propellants such as butane or propane that are found in aerosol canisters are.

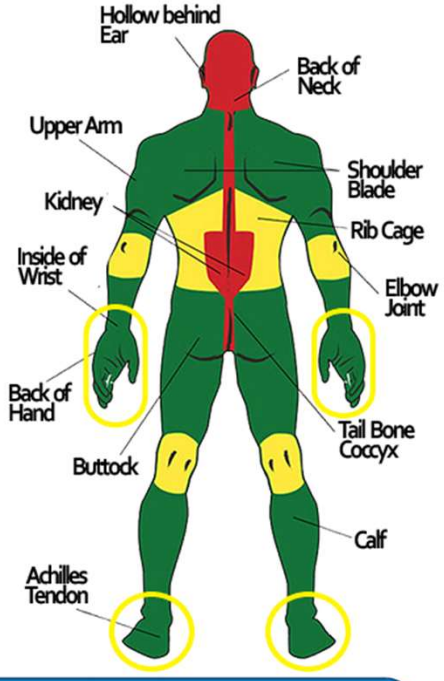

DEPLOYMENT OF BATON

The baton is deployed with the weapon hand and held in the center of the grip with a “full hand” grip. The baton is opened using centrifugal force. The baton can be opened to the ground or to the sky. Opening the baton to the sky provides maximum visibility but requires the motion to be reversed to execute a strike. Opening a baton to the ground provides minimal visibility but allows continuation of motion into a strike.

When delivering strikes with a baton, strikes should be aimed at the center of muscle mass of the arms, legs, or torso, NOT joints.

DO NOT INTENTIONALLY STRIKE THE HEAD, NECK, SPINE, STERNUM, OR GROIN UNLESS DEADLY FORCE IS JUSTIFIED.

STRIKING AREAS

GREEN	YELLOW	RED
REASONING Minimal level of resultant trauma. Injury tends to be temporary rather than long-lasting, however exceptions can occur. Except for the HEAD, NECK, SPINE, the whole body is a Green Target Area for the application of baton blocking and restraint skills.	REASONING Moderate to serious level of resultant trauma. Injury tends to be more long-lasting, but may also be temporary.	REASONING Highest level of resultant trauma. Injury tends to range from serious to long-lasting rather than temporary and may include unconsciousness, serious bodily injury, shock or death.

IDFPR & ILGA

ILLINOIS DEPARTMENT OF FINANCIAL & PROFESSIONAL REGULATION

The Illinois Department of Financial and Professional Regulation is the organization that regulates Private Security Forces in Illinois. The Administrative Code can be found on their website.

The website for the IDFPR is: www.idfpr.com

ILLINOIS GENERAL ASSEMBLY

The Illinois Compiled Statutes lists the laws that govern the IDFPR and the institutions and professions that they regulate. The law governing Private Security Forces is cited as, The Private Detective, Private Alarm, Private Security, Fingerprint Vendor, and Locksmith Act of 2004 and listed as 225 ILCS 447.

This Act can be found online at: www.ilga.gov

LESSON 7

FIRE PREVENTION, EQUIPMENT, & SAFETY

FIRE PREVENTION

Fire prevention is everyone's job and can range from tasks as simple as placing cigarettes in the correct receptacle to being attentive while cooking. Ensure that when dealing fire or combustibles, safety measures are in place and adhered to.

FIRE ESCAPE

If there is no fire evacuation or escape plan in place, create one immediately. A fire plan should include, primary and emergency exits along with routes, locations of fire extinguishers, fire alarms, stairs, elevators, and fire shelters.

FIRE ESCAPE

In the case that a fire does occur, follow the emergency plan in place unless it puts you in danger. If there is no emergency plan in place, listen for instructions that may be broadcasted over the public-address system. If there are no instructions coming from the public-address system, leave immediately and head for the nearest exit. If smoke is encountered, try another escape route.

FIRE ESCAPE

If you must escape through smoke, crawl on hands and knees while keeping your head 1-2 feet off the ground where the air is the cleanest. During escape, always use stairs, never use elevators unless directed otherwise by the fire department. Also, test doorknobs and spaces around the door with the back of your hand, if the door is warm try another route.

FIGHTING A FIRE

When attempting to fight a fire, there are a few critical points to be aware of.
Always have an escape route and understand the classes of fires and fire extinguishers, and how to operate them.

CLASSES OF FIRE EXTINGUISHERS

All fire extinguishers are labeled to correspond to the type of fires they can extinguish.

Fire Class & Symbol	Pictogram	Types of Fires
A		Ordinary solid combustibles (paper, wood, cardboard and most plastics)
B		Flammable liquids and gases (gasoline, kerosene, grease or oil)
C		Energized electrical equipment (appliances, wiring, circuit breakers or outlets)
D	Not Commonly Used 	Combustible metals sound in labs (magnesium, titanium, potassium or sodium)
K		Oils and fats (cooking oils, trans-fats, or fats in cooking appliances)

CLASSES OF FIRE EXTINGUISHERS

There are also multi-purpose fire extinguishers capable of being used on multiple classes of fires. These extinguishers are labeled as: ABC- Used for Class A, B, and C fires but never on Class K fires because of the possibility of reignition. BC- Used for Class B and C fires.

P.A.S.S. TECHNIQUE

When using a fire extinguisher, stand 10 -20 feet away and utilize the P.A.S.S. Technique.

- PULL the pin to unlock the operating lever
- AIM at the base of the fire
- SQUEEZE the operating lever to discharge the extinguishing agent
- SWEEP from side to side at the base of the fire until the fire is extinguished

FIGHTING A FIRE

ALWAYS have the fire Department inspect the fire site even after the fire has been extinguished.

LESSON 8

REPORT WRITING

WRITING THE REPORT

The first point to consider when writing a report is timeliness. Write reports as soon as possible after the situation is under control. There are two major parts to most reports, Pertinent Information and the Narrative. The pertinent information will most likely be listed at the beginning of the report and include full names, descriptions, addresses, date, time, etc.

WRITING THE REPORT

The narrative is simply a description of events. When completing the narrative, be relevantly detailed, clear, and accurate. There are six elements of reporting writing that need to be included in every narrative.

SIX ELEMENTS OF REPORT WRITING

The six elements of report writing are:

WHO?

WHAT?

WHEN?

WHERE?

WHY?

HOW?

When completing your narrative answer these six questions, and everything needed for that report should be in the answers.

Incident Report

Use this form to document any type of significant incident where important facts might be needed at a later time. Examples of times that you would fill this form out would be – injury, sexual harassment by a customer or vendor, intoxicated customer, vandalism, violence, etc... Use additional sheets of paper if needed.

Type of Incident:
Date:	Time:	Location:
Name of Person Involved:

LESSON 9

CIVIL RIGHTS
PUBLIC REALTIONS

BILL OF RIGHTS

The Bill of Rights is the first 10 Amendments to the Constitution. It guarantees civil rights and liberties to all Americans

FREEDOM OF SPEECH

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

RIGHT TO BEAR ARMS

A well-regulated militia, being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms, shall not be infringed.

SEARCH & SEIZURE

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

PLEAD THE FIFTH

No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

In security, your relationship with the public can be an invaluable tool. Your everyday interaction with the public whether direct or indirect is constantly under watch and greater scrutiny than led to believe. Your individual actions can weight greatly against you and your employer alike or be the reason for positive feedback from the public. A quality relationship begins with understanding the rights of the public and preserving those rights.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

Next is communication and interpersonal skills.
A friendly greeting followed by an empathetic interest in in a person's concern will allow that person to comfortably express themselves and allow you to receive their complaint or concern effectively. The peering eye of the public will consider your attentive attitude and responsiveness.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

This positive perception of security can cause the public to be more cooperative and helpful. A smug attitude or a reluctance to receive someone's complaint or concern will leave the public less willing to interact with you or your employer.

When dealing with the public remember to:

- Always do the right thing
- Be attentive and responsive
- Be empathetic

LESSON 10

TERRORISM

FEDERAL CRIME OF TERRORISM
